SAN FRANCISCO, NOV. 13.—WITHOUT A MOMENT'S WARNING A BRICK WALL AT MARKET AND TWELFTH STREETS FELL OVER AT 2 O'CLOCK THIS AFTERNOON, BURYING SEVERAL OF THE WORKMEN UNDER TONS OF DEBRIS. THE KNOWN INJURED ARE JOHN CAPAS AND ANDREW ANGELETICILLO. A HUNDRED MEN ARE FRANTICALLY AT WORK REMOVING BRICKS, AS IT IS BELIEVED THAT SEVERAL MORE WORKMEN ARE BURIED UNDER THE RUINS. THE TWO MEN WHO HAVE BEEN TAKEN OUT ARE BELIEVED TO BE FATALLY INJURED. THEY HAVE BEEN REMOVED TO A HOSPITAL AT THE TIME OF THE ACCIDENT ABOUT TWENTY MEN WERE AT WORK EXCAVATING A BASEMENT IN THE SHADOW OF THE WALL. WHEN THE BRICKS BEGAN TO FALL THE MEN STARTED TO RUN, BUT CAPAS AND ANGELETICILLO WERE CAUGHT UNDER THE EDGE OF THE TUMBLING MASS. IT IS THOUGHT THAT OTHERS WERE WORKING DIRECTLY UNDER THE WALL WHEN IT FELL, AND AS IT WILL BE SOME TIME BEFORE ALL THE BRICKS CAN BE THROWN ASIDE IT IS NOT DEFINITELY KNOWN WHETHER ANY LIVES WERE LOST OR NOT. AT A LATE HOUR THIS AFTERNOON THE RESCUERS HAD REMOVED MOST OF THE FALLEN BRICKS. THEY DID NOT COME ACROSS ANY MORE INJURED WORKMEN AND AS NEARLY ALL THE MEN WHO WERE ENGAGED IN THE EXCAVATION HAVE BEEN ACCOUNTED FOR IT IS BELIEVED THAT BUT TWO PERSONS WERE SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Patrolman Hodgkins Takes Stand in Divorce Suit.

Miss Minnie R. Hodgkins was the first witness called this morning in the Superior Court before Judge John E. Ellsworth in the divorce case instituted by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Harriet H. Hodgkins against her husband, Patrolman Hodgkins. The police officer whose bravery has brought him into prominence recently, Miss Hodgkins stated that Mr. Hodgkins got out on the porch Easter morning and shouted to her husband, "You are not the father of my child." Hodgkins grabbed the infant from the "baby carriage and rushed into the house with it, the wife following, crying, "Oh my baby." The witness said the wife was pretending to cry. "I did not go into the room to console her," said Miss Hodgkins. "She never showed me any mark made as alleged by my brother's pistol on her arm. I never found her crying and told my brother to leave her alone."

COACHES HER COUNSEL.

Mrs. Hodgkins the beautiful plaintiff coached her counsel throughout the proceedings. Time and again she whispered suggestions to Miss Hodgkins, her sister in law, denied allegations after allegations. She proved a valuable witness for her brother.

Attorney Hynes tried to get witnesses to admit that the police officer grabbed a telephone receiver from his wife's hand to prevent her from telephoning to her aunt that her husband had struck her. Miss Hodgkins denied knowledge of the occurrence. This ended examination of witness but Hynes recalled her to the stand only to dismiss her with an apology, because after a consultation with his client he

Damaging Evidence in the McNulty Hearing.

Attorney A. L. Frick recovered sufficiently from his recent indisposition caused by the active part he took in his brother's victory for county school superintendent to appear this morning in Department 5 of the Superior Court. He showed little traces of his illness and entered with vigor into the fight against District Attorney-elect Everett Brown who is trying to prove Lester C. McNulty guilty of an assault upon Miss Dorothy Olivia Olsen.

For the first time since the trial began the spectator benches were deserted save for one or two men. The tribune composed of the father, the physician, and the defendant of the McNulty family still occupied their seats in the order named.

Freda Wallen 2823 Cherry street, Berkeley, 11 years old was the main witness called for the prosecution. She testified to seeing objects struggling on the lawn.

Her father John G. Wallen told of hearing Miss Olsen's screams and of escorting the girl to the Marshall residence.

Carl Wallen, the son, also was a witness and testified to the occurrence. A recess was taken after a spirited argument between counsel until 2:30 o'clock.

SAIL FOR GOLD TREASURE LONG BURIED BENEATH SEA IN SHIP OF DEATH

Two millions in pure gold, wrested from California sands in 1862, and which, together with two hundred human souls, sank with a burning ship off the Mexican Coast, forty-four years ago, is the prize for which will strive a band of hardy navigators, who this morning passed through the Golden Gate on the staunch steam schooner Argo. Only one hundred and fifty feet from shore, beneath eight feet of shifting sands and breaking surf, lies this great treasure which time has outlawed and which belongs to those who succeeded in taking it from the wreck just visible above the shoal waters.

GOLDEN GATE'S STRONG BOX IS PRIZE

STEAM SCHOONER ARGO TO SEEK MILLIONS IN MEXICO.

Science Will Battle Elements for Bullion Lost Forty-Four Years Ago.

With the lure ever before them of the millions of treasure that lie in the wrecked hull of the ship Golden Gate, which went down off the beach of Manzanillo Mexico in 1862 there sailed this morning from San Francisco the steam schooner Argo, equipped to carry on a modern quest for the lost gold that lies in the sands of the ocean.

The Argo is owned and commanded by Captain Charles W. Johnson of Lewes, Delaware. With him in the venture are four other eastern men. Owing to the stringent laws of Mexico against foreign companies, the five associates have formed no company although they have advanced $20,000 to meet the expenses. Out of this sum the Argo manned by a crew of twelve was fitted with every appliance including a powerful gasoline launch, to battle with the heavy tides of the Mexican coast, and a dredging pump to remove the eight feet of sand that have drifted over the strong-box of the Golden Gate.

While the Argo is under the nominal command of Captain L. A. H. East, the head of the expedition is Captain Johnson. The work of excavating the gold will be under his personal direction.

TRAGEDY OF 1862.

In July of 1862 the Golden Gate, a Pacific Mail steamer plying between San Francisco and Panama, set out from San Francisco under command of Captain Hudson, with three hundred souls aboard, with $35,000 in the ship's safe and more than a million and a half of gold in the strongbox. This was composed of gold coin, gold bullion and thirty thousand California slugs octagonal pieces of gold with a value of $50 each. In addition to this, each passenger, fresh from the gold fields of California, carried hard-earned savings in varying amounts, most of it bound to their bodies by money belts.

Early one morning just seventeen miles out from Manzanillo harbor, and just as the gong sounded for breakfast, fire was discovered in the prow of the vessel. Despite desperate battling with the flames, it was found impossible to contain the fire.

WOMEN ARE SHUT FROM SLAYER'S CELL

Pretty Flowers Are Not Appreciated by Police.

SAN FRANCISCO Nov. 13.—Captain of Detectives Duke has determined to put a stop to the attentions shown to John Siemen, the alleged gaspiller murderer, who, with Louis Dabner, has been the center of the public gaze the last few days.

Siemen, who is a fine looking fellow, has been the cynosure of the eyes of the throng of women who have crowded the courtroom and craned their necks to get a glimpse of the two men on the way to and from the police court. Dabner has been the object of no little attention, but Siemen, who has not yet confessed, as has Dabner, has been the real hero of the affair, and he has been the recipient of more admiration from the members of the fair sex than any man since Durrant's time.

Women have vied with each other in an attempt to send the biggest, most fragrant and most expensive clusters of blossoms to the accused man, who seems thoroughly to enjoy it all and even to thrive upon it.

Now Captain Duke has determined that this gushing shall cease, not only for the benefit of the women themselves, but for the good of those immature minds which are liable to form a misconception of the relative value of things by the attention shown to the alleged murderer.

Therefore, "please omit flowers."

SORROW IS CAUSE OF HER SAD PLIGHT

Is Strapped to Her Cot; Flesh Is Torn.

Miss Irene M. Zipey the beautiful young actress of the Checkers Road Company, was committed to the Stockton State Hospital this morning by Superior Judge T. W. Harris, on recommendation of Drs. Sarah I. Shuey and A. T. Percy, representing the lunacy board, before whom the victim appeared.

Bare-headed, her prematurely gray hair cloaking the face of a Madonna, Miss Zipey was brought into court by her mother, Mrs. Anna Magnar, of 94 Prospect place, Brooklyn, New York, and Warden T. M. Page of the receiving hospital. She made no resistance, and appeared oblivious to her surroundings.

LAUGHTER AND SILENCE.

Throughout the proceedings she laughed in a hysterical way or adopted a silence that was punctuated by expressions of grief and sorrow. Sitting beside the daughter was the heart-broken mother, tears streaming down her cheeks as moment after moment showed that he child was doomed to an unknown fate.

The evidence brought forth the fact that eight years ago Miss Zipey had suffered from nervous prostration due to overstudy.

She was always an ambitious child, and her talent for music and art induced her father Jacob Zipey, Turkish consul at New York City, to in every way further the desires of his little girl. He died when she was but fourteen.

Death for the time being stunted her wishes for fame, but when the hour of mourning had given way to the day of longing, Miss Zipey broke the news to her mother that the only path to success for a woman lay on the stage.

RAISE IN WAGES FOR RAILWAY MEN

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13.—Rumors of a raise in wages of all three of the transcontinental railroads—the Southern Pacific, Santa Fe and Salt Lake Railway, were verified to some extent by an interview given out by President E. P. Ripley of the Santa Fe here today.

President Ripley stated that various Western railroads had sent representatives to a meeting to be held in Kansas City next Saturday, at which the claims of the several unions of railroad employees that they are entitled to higher wages, will be given consideration.

PRETTY KENTUCKY BELLE, NOW Suing FOR A DIVORCE, GETS $25,000 FROM HUSBAND

Mrs. Lillian K. Gurnee has practically won the divorce case brought by her husband, in the Contra Costa county court. This afternoon at 2 o'clock, the attorneys for the litigants held a conference, and the property rights of the contesting couple were settled to the satisfaction of both.

Mrs. Gurnee receives the sum of $25,000 as her share of her husband's property. Gurnee has practically given up the battle for the divorce, and it is probable that he will not appear in court when the suit is called.

Recently he brought an action against his wife to secure a divorce on the ground of desertion. Mrs. Gurnee filed an answer and cross-complaint, wherein she charged her husband with extreme cruelty.

Then it was that the battle of detectives commenced. From the day that the suit was filed, detectives have been on Gurnee's trail, and it is said that they have a long list of charges against him which they propose to relate when her suit for a separation on the cross complaint is called in the Martinez court.

Mr. Gurnee probably will not put in any evidence as it is said that he will not be able to prove the charges he has made against his stunning wife. On the other hand Mrs. Gurnee will attempt to show that her husband has been going with other women, that he has been drinking heavily, and that he has been going the pace that kills.

She has more than thirty witnesses who will be called on her behalf. The property rights being settled up, the case will immediately be restored to the calendar in the Contra Costa court.

Gurnee is said to be worth $150,000. As all this is separate property, it is thought that Mrs. Gurnee has made an excellent settlement by securing $25,000.

Asa V. Mendenhall of Oakland, attorney for Mrs. Gurnee has done excellent work for his client. It was through his clever tactics that Gurnee was outgeneraled and finally compelled to make a property settlement with his wife.

This is considered one of the greatest victories in the case.

SAY CAPTAIN WAS BRUTAL

Returned Sailors Tell Revolting Tales—Allege Killing of One Man.

Charges of the most atrocious cruelties have been made against Captain John A. Cooke, of the whaling schooner Bowhead, which returned to San Francisco yesterday afternoon after three seasons in the Arctic. The men on the whaler tell tales of the most blood-curdling cruelties inflicted on them by their captain. They state that soon after the Arctic zone was reached, Captain Cooke began to beat the men, and they claim that a sailor named Robert Hansen who was kicked in the stomach by Cooke, a few days later commenced to vomit blood. He finally became worse and finally died. Cooke, who diagnosed the case, said the man died from consumption, but the men say that his death was due to the kick he had received. Carl Faber and Carl Miller were probably the worst treated of the crew, deserted the ship, and came home last summer on another boat.

SEARCH FOR TREASURE BURIED IN SUNKEN SHIP

possible to check their progress. Captain Hudson resolved to sacrifice his ship to save his passengers, and, if possible, the cargo of treasure. The Golden Gate was run onto the beach, and (for this Captain Hudson has been censured often and severely) with prow hard and fast in the sand and the stern straight out against the sea.

BATTLE WITH BREAKERS.

For any to escape from the ship it was necessary to battle with the breakers, leaving the boat at the stern, as the roaring flames in the fore prevented egress in that quarter. The passengers removed their money belts and cast them upon the deck; crew and passengers alike sprang into the roaring surf to gain the shore by a heart-rending struggle with out-sweeping tides, or be swept out and down into the deep. It was either that or death in the flames. Of the three hundred on board two hundred were lost. There were several women among them, only one of whom was saved, she after a fight that many men succumbed to.

Many stories are told of that wreck. There is one of the negro cook, who buckled around him all the money belts he could, then leaped hopelessly into the sea, with the words that he "would die rich."

150 FEET FROM SHORE.

There on the beach of Manzanillo, not 150 feet from the shore, lies the wreck of the Golden Gate. Part of the vessel is visible above the eddying tides; standing forth like a sentinel over the millions in the hold, buried under eight feet of sand and washed over by eight feet more of water. Old Captain Hudson, who ran her there, is in Sailors' Snug Harbor, New York, a refuge for seamen no longer seaworthy.

ONE PARTY FAILED.

Thus far the great bulk of the treasure lies undisturbed. In 1853 a party was organized, but nothing was recovered in any large amount. In 1864 a party secured part of the gold, but the bulk was obtained by Wells, Fargo & Company, to whom the treasure had been entrusted, after a legal battle.

CAPTAIN IS CAPABLE.

Perhaps no man in America is better fitted for this task than Captain Charles W. Johnston, who investigated the scene of the expedition in 1902. He has removed more wrecks than any four concerns in America—150 in all; he has operated in almost every Atlantic harbor from Maine to Texas, and he has successfully undertaken more large contracts for the United States government than any other deep-sea worker. His government contracts are estimated at $1,000,000 aggregate.

At the Portsmouth Navy Yard, Captain Johnston removed a large ledge of rock to make a coaling station. Boston harbor was deepened under his supervision.

FAMOUS UNDERTAKING.

One famous undertaking of his was grappling for the bark De Brock, which sunk in Delaware Bay in 1787. The body of the captain, John Drew, was rushed ashore and was buried in St. Peter's churchyard, Lewes. For nearly one hundred years the De Brock lay in the harbor before Captain Johnston was engaged to try to raise it. The work, however, proved unsuccessful.

In December, Captain Johnston expects to be at work on the Golden Gate wreck. The work will be done by a pier being first constructed, and the dredging carried on without obstacles from the strong tides proving pauperable.

CHINAMAN VS. WHITE WOMAN

Legal Battle On Over the Possession of Lease to Building.

The spectacle of a white woman in a legal battle with a Chinaman for a contestant was seen in Judge William H. Wase's court this morning when the case of Lim Ben versus James Prideaux was called. Lim seeks to secure the lease on the building, 380-382 Eighth street and claims that the defendant to the action had agreed to give it to him for three years from May 1, 1906, at a monthly rental of $82. Since then rents have gone up in the vicinity and now it will cost the chinaman many more years to get the building back.

The woman in the case today was Mrs. Annie Navarine, who claimed that she died when she said she had leased the premises until July. The reason she gave for telling the false story was that she did not wish to be bothered by lawyers. At the time they tried to oust her from the premises she was about to become a mother and the attorney who went to serve the judgment on her said he did not have the heart to do so.

Prideaux states that he intends to erect a modern office building on the land and therefore does not want the Chinaman to move in but Lim says he has been damaged to the extent of $1,000 and wants that amount. The case went over until tomorrow morning.

DENIES CHARGES OF HIS WIFE

found further questions were not needed at that time.

WIFE OF EX-CHIEF. Mrs. Annie Hodgkins, wife of the ex-Chief of Police St. Clair Hodgkins, was then called. Attorney W. S. Chapman asked the witness if the plaintiff ever stated to her that she did not wish to become a mother.

"Yes, sir," Mrs. Hodgkins, "she did tell me that she wished to get rid of the child."

Hynes objected to the question, but the court overruled it, because in the opinion of Judge Ellsworth the wife had accused the husband of sanctioning abortion, whereas the husband was positive that the wife wanted the criminal operation performed. For that reason the objection was overruled. Hynes fought hard to have the answer stricken out, and when the court refused to sustain the objection Hynes took exception.

IN OWN BEHALF. Officer Hodgkins was then called to the stand in his own behalf. He said he was married April 22, 1895, and was a resident of the county twenty-four years.

Said he was police officer of the city of Oakland and he had a salary of $100 a month, paid back of a pension fund. Had no money but household furniture; no property in bank, money due him from citizen, $50, who gave it her husband, but he was a thug, was three and one-half weeks in jail.

The value of furniture was about $1000 before marriage. Hynes objected to question because value might be determined by a jury, and he supposed that financial ability of defendant was involved because of increased attorney's fees and he wanted to show what Hodgkins was worth.

"I never was married," continued witness, "I had over $1000 in bank. We went around for two months."

"I move answer be stricken out," said Hynes.

"All that I bought is now in the house."

"Did you ever see your wife since marriage with a black eye?"

"No, sir," he said, "she left eyelid discolored one time, I did not discolored it or cause it to be discolored. She said she bumped it on the door. She never claimed to me that I had blacked her."

PATERNITY OF CHILD. "Regarding conversation about the paternity of the child, she told me I was not its father. She said this in anger."

"I made a remark that I was not the father of the child; I never struck or pressed a pistol against her arm or upon any portion of her body. I am too careful with a revolver."

"I never called her any vile names or made use of any names similar to those in the complaint."

"I never did pull clothing from her."

"I never accused her in May, 1905, of being out with another man. I never struck her with my hand or tried to strangle her with a pillow at that time. About the basement affair, I came home at midnight. I spoke to her about going to bed. She said she would go out and stay with whom she wanted and that if I wanted to stay around here I must do my household duties. I saw her leave the house. She said she had stayed in the basement."

HEARD NO NOISE. "I did not hear any noise in the basement after she left that night. I never struck her on the arm with a pistol. The only occasion that I saw her was October 22, 1905. I came home from work and my mother, sister and wife were in the kitchen. I went in the bedroom and took off my working clothes. I told her everything that she wanted to hear. I told her I did not know who she had been. I have never from my wedding day to this hour called her a vile name. She called me an obscene epithet on several occasions during the three months after we were married. She had been away all day and did not come home until midnight. She had on her wedding dress. I asked her where she had been. I said, 'I was not right for you, you were away.' 'If you don't like it you know what you can do,' was her reply. 'The only way I can

MRS. CAROLINE BEALS IS LAID IN THE GRAVE

Funeral of the Well-Known Teacher Is Held in the Town of Berkeley This Afternoon.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock a solemn and affecting farewell was taken by professors, pupils and friends of a beloved teacher, the late Mrs. Caroline R. Beals, for 25 years instructor in English literature in the Girls' High School of San Francisco, whose funeral took place at the Unitarian church, Berkeley, the services being conducted by Rev. Mr. Hobart, the minister of the society. The auditorium was filled with people, few of whom held kinship with the deceased, but all of them were bound to her by indissoluble ties of affection and love because of her womanly character, her intellect, her gentleness and gentility of her disposition and the success which crowned the efforts of a lifetime in the uplifting of woman kind in the enervating work of the classroom.

Tender tributes to the deceased were paid by Rev. Mr. Hobart and Prof. Henry Senger, the latter of the University of California. Rev. Mr. Hobart spoke of the departed in the midst of a woman with a heart full of sorrowing with love for humanity, an unalterable devotion to duty and a firmness of purpose to do what was good and right.

Prof. Senger told of the years he had passed in association with the deceased when she was instructor in English literature in the Girls' High School in San Francisco, the ascendancy which she gained with ease over her pupils, the interest which she never failed to inspire in them for the studies and the benediction she conferred by enabling them to discern and appreciate the masterpieces of the language which had come down to them from authors of days in the distant past.

Many of the auditors, more especially former students, have women with silvery hair, were visibly affected, especially when the final parting was taken.

Several vocal selections were rendered by the Marionettes of the San Francisco. The pallbearers were, H. A. Powell, Warren Gregory, Prof. Henry Senger, Prof. Senger, Prof. Haskell and George Pape. The remains were taken to Mt. Peake, Waltham, Mass., where they will be reinterred in the cemetery of the husband of the deceased, who died many years ago.

Death did not claim Mrs. Beals until after she had rounded out full forty years. The eightieth anniversary of her birth, a short time ago was rendered eventful by a generous rivalry among former pupils of hers to show their gratitude for the many advantages she had bestowed on her. Hundreds of letters fluttered into her home on that day, and all that could be said in congratulation, in prose and verse, failed not to find expression on the occasion.

Mrs. Beals' maiden name was Caroline Burgess. She was born in 1826 in the vicinity of Boston, Mass., and in that center of intellectual development, received the education which prepared her for her life's work in the classroom.

Love of literature was in the atmosphere in which Miss Burgess lived, and was intensified by example and work of the masters of writing. She was born to a family of scholars. Her father, Burgess, taught in the high school at Quincy, Mass. Later she held, for six years, a position in a private school on Mt. Vernon street, Boston. This school was owned by Lincoln F. Emerson, a relative of the famed Ralph Waldo Emerson.

She then married, but her husband died within a year. The widow, Mrs. Beals, cherished in memory the ideal of the husband she had lost, and resolved to set out to find a place for herself among the educators of the country.

She went to San Francisco and there became connected with the State Normal school which was then located in that city. She then taught in the girls' high school of that city and continued as teacher of English literature for twenty-one years.

During that period, thousands of young women passed under her guidance and to them her name and influence will be ever grateful.

Mrs. Beals retired from the school department of San Francisco in 1888. She then spent six months in Europe, and then returned to her home at 2214 Alhambra street, Berkeley, where she philosophically awaited the final summons.

Her passing away was gentle, like the tenor of her life and brought to a close a long and honorable old age, which she had made so full of joyous times.

HEART DISEASE KILLS WOMAN

Mrs. A. E. Goodale Who Was Attending Convention in Stockton Dies Suddenly.

Mrs. A. E. Goodale, a prominent club woman of this city, who was attending the Federation of Women's Clubs which is convening in Stockton, was stricken with heart disease at an hotel in that city at an early hour yesterday morning, and died there. A physician could be summoned.

The deceased was the widow of the late Dr. Goodale. She was born in Rhode Island in 1840, and has resided in Oakland for many years. She was the mother of Mrs. A. W. W. Fogg of Nevada City, Cal.

NEGRESS FREED FROM CHARGE OF LARCENY

The charges of grand larceny made by James Zuckerman against Ethel Reed, a negress, did not hold this morning in Police Judge Smith's court and the defendant was released.

Zuckerman told of how he had befriended the young woman on a street corner, and yesterday morning he had found her in a rooming house in a seemingly stock condition. He assisted her to a car and paid her fare. He declared that on both occasions she picked his pockets. His testimony could not be substantiated, however, and the charge was dismissed.

FIST FIGHT STIRS MEMBERS OF LODGE

BERKELEY, Nov. 13.—Members of the local lodge of the Fraternal Order of Eagles are considerably stirred up over a fight between two of its members which has resulted in the arrest of Abelard Slater on the complaint of Charles Van Hulle. According to the police the altercation between the men arose over a game of cards.

Words were passed between the men. Slater claims that Van Hulle struck him first and admits that he retaliated. An interesting trial is expected.

HE MAY ANSWER TO SHOOTING CHARGE

A more serious charge than that of carrying concealed weapons may be placed against John Benevia, who was arrested last night. It is said that Benevia shot at a countryman and the police now have the shooting under investigation. Benevia appeared in department two of the police court this morning, and his testimony had to be interpreted by his small daughter. He declared that he did not shoot at anyone, but Judge Samuels continued the case until tomorrow, for the passing of sentence and the alleged shooting will be investigated in the meantime. Benevia was arrested about two weeks ago for carrying concealed weapons, and was released.

APPOINTED COMMISSIONERS.

Mary Cecilia Evans, widow of the late John Henry Evans, having petitioned the Superior Court for the appointment of three commissioners to distribute the estate of her late husband, Judge Evans of this county, Judge T. W. Harris appointed G. S. Meredith, T. W. Huxley and J. W. Church to act in that capacity. The final account and distribution was allowed and approved yesterday.

"No."

Afterwards Hodgkins admitted that as far as he knew she was a fit custodian of the child.

MAN BROUGHT BACK TO LIFE

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The breath having left his body, and his heart pulseless, Harry Beebe, of South Millville, N. J., was revived by three physicians yesterday morning and was able to tell how it feels to be on the verge of death.

Mr. Beebe was stricken with heart failure and when Doctors Wade, Miller and Jones arrived life seemed to be extinct. One of the physicians noted a slight pulsation in the muscles of the face and they at once resorted to a hypodermic injection. Artificial respiration was produced and slowly but surely the man returned to life and is now on a fair road to recovery.

The medical men regard the result of their efforts as almost miraculous.

THEATERS DARK WHEN FUSE BOX BURNS OUT

For a period of over forty-five minutes last night, various electric lights about the city, including those which illuminate the Madison and Ye Liberty playhouses, were shut off by the burning out of a fuse box on a pole at the corner of Fourteenth and Commercial streets.

The fuse box, which was being repaired, was located on a pole at the corner of Fourteenth and Commercial streets. The fuse box was being repaired by a man who was working on the pole.

BRITISH SHIP GOES ASHORE

Slight Hope of Saving Vessel Off the Coast of Oregon.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 13.—A dispatch from Astoria, Or., says: The British ship Galena, sixty days from Japan, Chilo, for this port, went ashore this morning on Clatsop Beach near Gearhart Park, and within a few miles south of where the Peter Iredale went ashore two weeks ago. The officers and crew all came ashore safely and will be sent to this city this evening. The ship is said to be resting easily and her master, Captain Powell, has confidence in getting her off, but from past similar experiences there is little chance.

BEAUTIFUL ACTRESS BECOMES INSANE

evinced a desire to leave musical comedy and join the legitimate or a comedy company. "Checkers" appealed to him. Manager Timoney engaged the girl to go out on his road tour as Sadie Martin.

Two or three weeks on the road convinced the girl that she could easily make the leading role of Pert, and accordingly she made application to the management for the position when Miss Clara Armstrong left the company in Oakland, but she had made such a success as Sadie Martin that they decided to keep her in that role.

PREYED UPON HER MIND. Apparently the disappointment so preyed upon the mind of the young girl that she became demented, because she was found an early one morning last month by a police officer wandering about the streets of Oakland.

Captain Peterson took an unusual interest in the girl's welfare, and his action gave rise to the fact that she came of a good family. This was verified when her mother reached here yesterday from Brooklyn, New York, only to find that her daughter was hopelessly insane and that she would be obliged to swear to a complaint charging her with insanity.

It caused Mrs. Magnus many a pang of grief to sign the complaint which she knew would send her daughter to an asylum, but there was no alternative, the girl could not remain at the Roosevelt Hospital, Berkeley, because she had become violent there, had broken dishes, had become hysterical and finally had to be strapped to her cot. There are marks on the beautiful young woman's hand where the cruel straps cut into the flesh.

At the conclusion of the examination this morning Dr. Percy stated that she was suffering from hysterical melancholia, but that she would recover after treatment, but could never go back to life on the stage, as it was too exciting for her. It developed during the examination that she never had a love affair and that no man was responsible for her pitiable condition.

FORTUNE FROM $10 STOCK OF GROCERIES

ALVA, Nov. 13.—A book of intense human interest could be written about the men and women who came here in pioneer days with scarcely enough money to buy food for their families, but in a few years have become wealthy and their savings amount to thousands of dollars.

In the little country town of Dane, four miles south of this place, stands a rude log house, now housed as a blacksmith shop, that once housed one of the first settlers of the town. About twenty years ago E. A. Crump moved from Kansas and homesteaded a claim near the house. He built this little log house as a home for his family. Those early years were hard ones, and Crump was compelled to rely upon something more than farming to support his family. There was no store in the neighborhood, and he decided to become a merchant.

He invested half of this in groceries, which he hauled home in a coffee box. Crump was a business man, and he built his coffee box from under the bed in the family sitting room and he closed his store at night by moving the box back under the bed. This little store was a convenience to farmers in the sparsely settled country, and gradually Crump was giving the place a name. Crump saved his money, obliged his customers, and his stock of merchandise grew day by day.

Persons passing now through this little town will see a substantial frame store, a blacksmith shop, and a hardware store. Crump, in about ten years he has accumulated a fortune estimated by his neighbors at from $12,000 to $15,000. All of it came from his original $10 stock of groceries, which he kept in his coffee box store.

POLITICANS ON BONTON STREET CAR.

Conductors on New York street cars need to be sent on a tour of observation and instruction in the behavior and use of civility and patience, as practiced in Boston, says an old woman who has just returned from the Hub. The ways of the conductors are indeed pleasant object lessons for the Bostonians.

The conductors are attentive to all women having little children and to infirm persons, as she found, in her own case. There's one advantage in living in the home, she says. "It makes one note, the contrast and appreciate the intelligence and courtesy shown in other places." From the New York Press.

TWO SOLDIERS ARRESTED.

MONTEREY, Nov. 13.—Two privates from the Twentieth regiment hospital corps, U. S. A., at the Presidio of Monterey, have been arrested on a charge of arson. On Saturday night the two were caught attempting to set fire to the hospital. Coal oil and paper had been placed with kindling wood against the side of the building when a centry observed one of the accused apply a match to the kindling. He then fled, and the other man followed him. The guard about the hospital and other buildings have been doubled with orders to shoot down the first man seen acting suspiciously.

MUCH LUMBER FOR OAKLAND

Big Consignments Are Being Received From Points in the North.

Large consignments of lumber are being sent to Oakland from the harbor, Eureka, and other northern ports. The Oakland waterfront presents a very active scene, as the harbor is crowded with shipping.

All the vessels in the harbor report good weather and fair winds all along the coast.

The steam schooner Santa Monica, 24 hours from Eureka, Captain Olsen, is discharging 550,000 feet of lumber for the Hogan Lumber Company at Adam's wharf.

The barkentine Amelia is in port, with 500,000 feet of lumber from the Ranier Mill & Lumber Company, which is situated on the Columbia river.

Her cargo is for several different parties, among which are the Oakland Dock Company and DeFremery and Company.

The vessel is discharging at Adam's wharf.

The four masted schooner Willis A. Holden, having 750,000 feet of lumber on board for the Bay Shore Lumber Company, is also discharging at Adam's wharf.

MORE LUMBER

The three masted schooner Charles R. Wilson, with 530,000 feet of lumber for the Sunset Lumber Company, is discharging at the foot of Clay street.

Captain Wilson, who had command of the vessel formerly, left as soon as the vessel docked, and Captain Matson will take his berth. The Charles R. Wilson is a vessel of 400 tons, and is nine days from Aberdeen.

New Cure For Rupture

New Scientific Appliance, Always a Perfect Fit—Adjustable to Any Size Person—Easy, Comfortable, Never Slips, No Obnoxious Springs or Pads—Cure for Men, Women or Children.

I Send it on Approval—You Wear It—If You Are Not Satisfied, I Refund Your Money.

I have invented a rupture appliance that I can safely say is the only one that will absolutely hold the rupture and never slip and yet is cool, comfortable, and costs less than many ordinary trusses. I have put the price so low that any person, rich or poor, can buy, and I absolutely guarantee it. I make it to your order—send it to you—wear it, and if it doesn't satisfy you send it back to me and I will return your money. That is the fairest proposition ever made by a rupture specialist. The basis of my success is that I have a Marshall will tell you that is the way I do business—always absolutely on the square.

Here is what Mr. Jas. Britton, a prominent manufacturer of Bethlehem, Pa., writes:

"C. E. Brooks, Esq., Dear Sir:—I have been ruptured six years and have always had trouble with it till I got your appliance. It is very easy to wear, fits neat and snug and is not in the way at any time, day or night. In fact at times I did not know I had it on. It just adapted itself to the shape of the body and clung to the spot no matter what position I was in. It would be a veritable God-send to the unfortunate who suffer from rupture. If all could procure the Brooks Rupture Appliance and wear it, they certainly would never regret it. My rupture is all healed up and nothing exists but a faint shadow of it. Write me today and I will send you my book on Rupture and its Cure, showing my appliance and giving you prices and names of people who have tried it and been cured. It is instant relief when all others fail. Remember I use no salves, no harness, no lies. Just a straight business deal at reasonable price."

C. E. BROOKS, 2261 Brooks Building, Marshall, Mich.

SENT MOTHER HIS EARNINGS

Printer Then Made Bed in a Box Car and Was Arrested for Doing So.

Telling a story of having sent all his money to his mother in Redlands saved Henry Carmichael, a non-union printer, who has just arrived in this city from Alaska, a term in the city prison for violating the sleeping-out ordinance. Carmichael was arrested last night in a box car at the foot of Jefferson street, and appeared before Police Judge Samuels this morning. He told a straightforward story of having secured a position in Bakerfield and having sent all his money to his mother. He was given a few hours to leave the city.

Charles Hardenburg, an employee of the Southern Pacific Company at Tracy, was also arrested on a similar charge. He told of having come to this city to take the examination to be a switchman and upon securing his credentials, was allowed to leave the city at once.

Charles Mitchell was not as lucky and was given three days in the city prison. George Marfante, another of the quartet of illegal sleepers, will receive his sentence tomorrow morning. The prisoner resides in Fruitvale and he stated that he had missed his last car last night, and after being unable to secure a room, sought a resting place in the box car.

MYSTERY IN DIKEMAN CASE

Police Wonder Where Aged Man Was From Tuesday Until Sunday.

BERKELEY, Nov. 13.—Where was Simon H. Dikeman, the aged capitalist of Fulton street and Bancroft way, during the interval from Tuesday of last week, when he left Grass Valley, until last Sunday night, when he was found battered and bruised, floundering in the mud off the Southern Pacific pier? This is a question that is worrying the members of the Dikeman household.

Their explanation of the mystery is that the old man, who was possessed of $185 and a bank book showing deposits to the amount of $33,000, was followed by some unknown who kept him in custody and attempted to rob him. They believe that their aged relative was led out on the pier and that when he was beaten by the would-be robber, attempted to save himself from further attack by jumping into the water and mud. But the old man would have quickly perished had it not been for the timely arrival of Southern Pacific watchmen who rescued him.

"We are entirely at a loss to account for the whereabouts of Mr. Dikeman," said Mrs. E. Dikeman, his daughter-in-law, today. "We received a telegram from Grass Valley last Tuesday stating that he had left there for his home in this city. He was possessed of all his faculties and had made the trip a number of times before. It is our opinion that some person must have seen his money and decided to get it by following him. He is in a fearfully battered condition and he must have received a terrible beating. We hope that he will entirely recover, but we have our fears that he may not, as he is 70 years of age."

FLORENCE YATES MEETS TRAGIC END

Miss Florence S. Yates, a prominent young society woman of Oakland and San Francisco, shot herself in the temple shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, dying instantly. The tragic event took place at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. Chamberlain, of 2050 Lyon street, San Francisco.

The young woman had not been here since the earthquake, and has been suffering from despondency ever since. Shortly after the fire she suffered from a severe attack of diphtheria, which left her still more depressed.

Miss Yates was a niece of Mrs. Lucy Dam, who is so well known in charitable and philanthropic circles in Oakland.

BARBERS, DON'T BREATHE IN CUSTOMER'S FACE

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 13.—"Don't put fingers in customers' mouths when shaving lips."

"Don't breathe in customer's faces after shaving or smoking tobacco, or after eating onions or garlic."

"Don't play with the dog or cat, then wait on customers without washing the hands."

"Don't ask personal questions."

These are a few of the "don'ts" incorporated in the yearly report of the state barber board.

No restraint is put on asking the customer if he wants a massage.

"Undertakers who charge for shaving corpses in this State will be prosecuted for a violation of the State barber law," the report continues. The minimum fine for violation of the law is $25. The statute requires barbers to register and take an examination for which a fee of $1 is paid.

"When barbers realize they are better off working in large shops, with good wages, than alone in the little stuffy room of a dinky shop, the profession will advance. Small shop business is demoralizing. The barber working in these little shops loses interest in himself and in his business."

The report is to be put in pamphlet form and will be sent to all barbers in the state.

MOTHER DYING FOR WORD FROM HER ABSENT SON

The young man came to Oakland as a refugee, April 27, and stayed for a period in an Oakland home. The name of the parties with whom he stayed, and where he has since gone, are unknown.

ARMED BANDITS HOLD UP TRAIN

RENO, Nov. 13.—Armed bandits entered the overland limited, west bound, Sunday night at Carlin, stealing the suit cases of the passengers in three coaches and taking Conductor Conn's money and ticket bag. The theft was discovered by brakeman E. Bertram, and he captured a robber, who later escaped. A posse was quickly formed and a running fight ensued in which 100 shots were fired. No one is known to have been injured.

The posse has been joined by Southern Pacific detectives, and it is now scouring the desert on the trail of the bandits. It is estimated by the railroad officials that $1000 was secured by the robbery. It is generally believed that the hold-up men are part of an organized gang of thieves who have operated between Sparks and Carlin for several months.

When the train pulled into the station the robbers climbed aboard, and with the passengers asleep they gathered the valuables unmolested. It is reported that one of the gang stood outside and kept Conductor Conn covered with a gun. As the cars started, Brakeman E. Bertram jumped aboard and collided with one of the bandits, a deaf and dumb man. The robbery was discovered and the brakeman stopped the train and turned the fellow over to the sheriff, but during the chase the posse overtook and captured the thief and joined the gang.

The passengers were roused from their berth by the excitement, many of them drawing their revolvers and firing indiscriminately when they heard the shots being exchanged by the posse outside. The sheriff's organization was joined by two commercial travelers, and when all were mounted the pursuit was begun. At the edge of Carlin the posse overtook and mounted member of the robber gang and their shots at him brought the mounted bandits back. A fusillade of bullets was fired and the robbers escaped in the darkness.

RICH MAN TO PAY $80,000 ALIMONY

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Nov. 13.—If the Superior Court of Connecticut confirms the judgment of its referee, Henry Sanford, millionaire son of the dean of Yale's School of Music and grandson of Henry Sanford, express company, must pay $80,000 to the beautiful widow who is suing him for divorce.

This is the largest alimony ever awarded by an American court. Besides, the young husband will be compelled to contribute $4000 a year to the support of his wife and child, and to add to his burden the referee recommends that the child be sent to college and fitted for any career he or his mother may choose, all at his father's expense.

The wife's suit was based upon the charge that Sanford had been too friendly with other women, unnamed. The referee reported was made to Judge Shumway, and the court's decision will be issued on Tuesday.

WON BOX OF CANDY RECEIVED 9 TROCHES

Deputy County Clerk A. E. Johnson received a present through the mail this morning in the form of a small box of candy composed of throat troches. He made a bet before the Stanford-Berkeley game in which he took the side of the winners of the red and the fair loser accordingly paid her obligation in lozenges. To add to Johnson's pleasure (?) he opened the box in the presence of Deputy County Clerk George Rogers, Justice Zambresky and Magistrate. He is wondering whether the joke is on the girl or on himself. There were nine troches in the prescription box, 6 to 8.

MAYOR MOTT TO STUDENTS

Tells Lafayette Pupils How Laws Are Made and Will Visit Other Schools.

Mayor Frank K. Mott visited the Lafayette school the other day and spent an hour talking to the pupils in compliance with the request of Principal Charles E. Keyes, who desired the mayor to explain to the children what ordinances were for, how they are made, and how enforced.

A discussion of ordinances had ensued when the pupils were told that, according to the city ordinance, they would hereafter be compelled to ride their bicycles on the streets, instead of on the sidewalk. In an effort to impress the meaning of these city government rules on the boys' minds, Principal Keyes took a number of them to listen to the City Council on meeting night. The boys were so enthused by what they heard there, that they wanted to know more, and Mr. Keyes decided to ask the mayor to address them.

The mayor in his talk told them all about the various methods connected with the passage of an ordinance, the making of laws and the conduct of the city government, and seized the occasion to say a word for good citizenship, obedience to the laws, the keeping of the streets clean, the beautifying of the city, etc., and when he had finished a more enthusiastic lot of pupils with determination to make things better around them, could not have been found in the membership of the most rigorous improvement club in the State.

So pleased was Mayor Mott with the result of this visit to the Lafayette school that he has determined to call upon every school in the city and pursue his newly formed ambition to make every schoolboy acquainted with municipal affairs and anxious to become a useful citizen.

Irwin, who dressed multiple abrasions of the right hand and abrasion of the right cheek bone. His friend, who accompanied him to the hospital, said Preston had imbibed twelve whiskeys before boarding the car, which accounts for the accident, as the hospital report shows he was intoxicated when received.

MILLIONAIRE'S SON ACCUSES MOTHER IN WILL CONTEST

Charges Fanaticism and That Father's Mind Was Poisoned Against His Children.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 12.—A contest of the will of Joseph H. Glide, a millionaire rancher and sheep raiser, was begun in the Superior Court today by J. H. Glide Jr., a son. Thornton Glide, another son, is said to favor the action taken, although he does not figure in the suit.

Glide Sr. died about two weeks ago, leaving his property, worth $1,000,000, to his widow, and reserving only $5 cash legacies for his children. It was said at the time that he had previously decided parts of his estate to his children, but it would appear that such was not the case.

The suit today is brought by J. H. Glide Jr. against his mother, and sensational allegations are made. He declares that his father was poisoned against his children when he made his will, and had become a religious fanatic. It is alleged that months ago Mrs. Glide became associated with the Peniel Mission, and that her husband then protested against their giving money to what he denounced as "religious fanatics."

In the course of time, it is set forth, the wife won the husband over, and he made handsome provision for the mission out of his estate. It is averred that while her husband was weak in body and mind, Mrs. Glide poisoned his mind against his children by telling him they were spendthrifts and had no love for him.

The son charges that his mother promised Glide Sr. that she would distribute the property to the children if he left her all of the estate and that she has since refused to do so. The Glide holdings are extensive in Sacramento and Yolo counties.

9 NAMED TO TRY MAN FOR SLAYING HIS SWEETHEART

Chester Gillette Shows No Anxiety Over Outcome of Fight That May Mean the Gallows.

HERKIMER, N. Y., Nov. 12.—Much better progress in selecting a jury to try Chester E. Gillette, the young man accused of the murder of his sweetheart, Grace Brown, was made yesterday than had been generally expected. Nine men, most of them farmers, were chosen. The other three jurors, it is expected, will be selected early today. The lawyers have resented the right to peremptorily challenge any one or all of the jurors but this right probably will be observed in a few cases only, so that the chances are that the jury will be sworn and the prosecutor's address made before the day is out.

Gillette, who is only 22 years old, evinced no sign of anxiety as he sat in court Monday. He sprawled out comfortably in a chair and chewed gum, smiling broadly at times at the answers given by some of the talesmen called to qualify as jurors.

The prisoner has many relatives, some of them wealthy and of social prominence, but none of them was in court yesterday. Gillette's lawyers were appointed to defend him by the county.

Nothing developed during the session to indicate what the defense would be. The theory in the court room seemed to be that the claim that Grace Brown committed suicide would prove to be the defense.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown, parents of Grace, and three sisters of the dead girl, are in Herkimer. They did not go near the court house, but newspaper men say they are bitter against the prisoner. She scolds the idea that her daughter committed suicide.

District Attorney Ward proposes to have the whole story of Grace Brown's romance with Gillette recounted from the time of their first meeting. For this many witnesses will be called, and they will tell a connected story of the pair's first acquaintance.

NEEDLE IN A GIRL'S WAIST CAUSED DEATH IN EMBRACE

Police Investigate a Strange Fatality and Hold Young Women Innocent of Any Intent.

SCRANTON, Pa., November 12.—To-night after a day spent in investigating the death of Thomas Dougherty of Dunmore, who was killed by being pierced in the heart by a long needle, the local police and County detective Phillips decided to withdraw the warrant that had been issued for the arrest of Kittle Burke, the girl who was suspected of having caused Dougherty's death. The authorities are of the opinion that the girl is innocent of murderous intent.

She says that she had been mending her brother's clothing with a long needle, used hereabouts in mending miners' heavy outer clothing, and that on going down town in the evening she stuck the needle in the bosom of her dress. Dougherty, who had been her sweetheart, halted her and asked her to take a walk with him. He attempted to embrace her, and the point of the needle that was in her dress caught in his vest, while the "eye" or blunt end rested against her corset. In the embrace the needle was forced into his body, through the fifth rib and into the cavity between the pericardium and the heart. Hemorrhages resulted that caused death.

LONDON SOCIETY REVELS IN SCANDAL AND ROLLS EYES IN PIOUS HORROR

AMERICAN DUCHESS UNRUFFLED BY GOSSIP

CONFESSION BY WIFE IS RUMORED BY DUKE'S FRIENDS

KING WORKING FOR HARMONY

Peaceful Settlement Was Near Last Week — Statements by Attorneys.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Not in years has society supped so full of scandal as over the quarrel between the American Duchess of Marlborough and her noble husband. It is the absorbing topic of conversation in Mayfair; every one, particularly the duke's friends, has new "information" concerning it which the auditors greedily swallow, while they roll their eyes in pious horror.

Meantime the duchess maintains her accustomed womanly pose; her sweet dignity is unruffled, she seems deaf to the din of gossip.

The dead of reputation has not been agreed upon yet. For the present the three children are in the care of their grandmother, the Marchioness of Blandford at Blenheim.

The duke has engaged Sir George Lewis, the famous and fashionable lawyer, to maintain his cause.

The calm duchess has placed her interests in the no less capable hands of the Hon. Charles Russell, son of the late Lord Chief Justice.

Her attitude is best described by her lawyer's reply to a question today:

"The Duchess of Marlborough does not intend to make any public statement concerning her private affairs."

But Sir George Lewis said to the English newspaper men:

"I may tell you what you do not appear to know—that the duke is in the right in this affair."

THE DUKE'S DENIAL.

That this is Marlborough's attitude is proved by the wording of the denial he published of the statement that he had conceded the custody of their children to the duchess. The denial was so couched as to convey the distinct impression that she is at grievous fault.

His friends now venture to hint that charges far more serious and compromising than incompetency, are made by both sides. The most daring of them whisper that the duchess made to her husband a defiant confession of astounding character and that the duke is determined to get a divorce. They add, and admitting that he is so set in this purpose that he refused a very handsome settlement offered by the duchess's American relatives.

Some of the duke's kin, including Winston Churchill, have been unceasing in their efforts to bring about a quiet settlement of the quarrel. King Edward, to whom all the legal documents on both sides were referred, is still working to the same end.

How near the duke and duchess were to some sort of a settlement, even at the end of the week, is proved by a circumstance that has come to knowledge.

A week ago yesterday the Duchess telegraphed to Woodstock ordering that all her belongings be removed from Blenheim Palace to Sunderland House, her town residence, where she is living in quiet confidence. A small army of men were busy packing her belongings in a string of vans when a second telegram from the Duchess came bidding the groom of the chambers to stop the work instantly and to restore everything to its place in the palace. A half-hour later a third message from her came by which rescinding her second order and directing that the removal be accomplished as quickly as possible.

HER TREASURES PACKED.

Among the Duchess's possessions removed from Blenheim are the famous pearls, her father's present, besides the necklace of black pearls she had as a bridal gift. Jewels, rare ornaments, costly specimens of Royal Swiss and of old Dresden ware are in the cases which, unopened, now stand in the hall of Sunderland House. There, too, is the beautiful recumbent figure of her oldest son, Lord Blandford, a the age of five, which the Duke ordered Emil Fuchs to chisel and for which the Duchess paid. A pair of Watteau drawings, two Meisners and a number of paintings by French artists, which hung in the Duchess's room at Blenheim, have been sent to her town house.

She has sent to Blenheim a few small pictures, most of the French school of the eighteenth century. Two fine built tables in the Round Room at Sunderland House, which the Duke arranged to be packed for dispatch to Blenheim yesterday. Besides these but few of the Duke's possessions remain in Sunderland House, it is said. The inspired gossip about the Duchess has not the slightest effect upon her intimate women friends. She gave a luncheon party for half a dozen of them at Sunderland House on Wednesday, and they discussed her plans for the winter.

Her great friend, Mrs. Aleck Pagan, the late William C. Whitney's daughter, who was her bridesmaid, asked her for a month's visit. But the Duchess has an engagement for some public charitable undertaking for the end of this month which, she said, she will keep.

The Duke is making arrangements already to let Blenheim, which he cannot possibly afford to maintain without American money. For example, it is said it costs $4,000 a year to keep clean the hundreds of windows in the palace. He will live, probably, in one of the small houses on his estate, for Woodstock House, the principal dower house, is let.

BEAUTIFUL OAKLAND GIRL ELOPES WITH A JAPANESE

Mother Declares She Will Avenge Harm to Her Daughter at Cost of the Oriental's Life.

PORTLAND, Nov. 12.—Sam Fukuuchi, a Japanese merchant from San Francisco, was arrested here today, together with a beautiful 15-year-old girl giving the name of Annie Bell, who says she came to Portland with her brown lover in order that he might marry her. She said the laws of California prohibit the union of the two races, and she preferred to leave her home State than give up her ducky admirer.

The girl was taken before Judge Fraser of the Juvenile Court, while Fukuuchi was incarcerated in the city prison pending advice from the authorities of San Francisco.

The strange couple were arrested at the Union depot today, where they alighted from a San Francisco train. A depot patrolman suspected that the Japanese was bringing the girl here for immoral purposes.

When questioned the girl appeared to be laboring under the effect of some powerful drug. She was unable to tell the location of her home other than that it is in San Francisco. She is undoubtedly the Florence Williams who eloped with Sam Fukuuchi from a Contra Costa ranch near Alamo, Cal.

Fourteen-year-old Florence Williams, a daughter of Mrs. Alamo Williams, is a well-known resident of Alamo, Contra Costa county. The case was reported to Sheriff Yeale by the girl's mother, who is heartbroken over the disappearance of her daughter.

Mrs. Williams declares that she will avenge any harm that may come to the girl, even at the cost of the Jap's life.

Fukuuchi was employed as a foreman on the Hale ranch, near Walnut Creek, and some time ago became acquainted with the girl. Last Saturday afternoon the girl met by appointment near the Williams home, and since that time they had not been located. Sheriff Yeale has notified the police of Oakland and San Francisco and other nearby cities to keep a watch for the runaway, and it is believed that they will soon be captured.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—Secretary Victor Metcalf has finished the investigation he was sent out here to make of the trouble arising from the action of the Board of Education in providing separate school accommodations for Japanese pupils. He will leave this morning for Washington, where he will report to President Roosevelt the result of his work.

During his visit, Secretary Metcalf has gone fully into the trouble. He has investigated cases of assaults on Japanese, particularly those on Professor Omori, the scientist. Attention has been devoted to the numerous street brawls between white and Japanese boys. The schools in which it is proposed to teach the Japanese have been visited by him. He has received from the local Immigration Bureau a great amount of statistics and facts bearing on the situation, and has carefully read all that has been published here regarding the trouble. He has had a number of conferences with the Japanese Consul.

Three Orientals Are Arrested for Gambling and Furnish Securities.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 12.—Policeman James McDonnell and Detective William Wabnitz raided the Chinese gambling houses on Lincoln avenue last night and captured three Orientals, two Chinese and one Japanese. The officers successfully passed the lookouts stationed on the streets and when the Orientals saw them enter the room where the game was going on a wild scramble was made for safety. Through the doors and windows the excited Orientals sought escape. The officers cornered three of them and took them to the city prison where they were charged with violating a gambling house. The men were immediately bailed out by their friends. The officers gathered in about 12 and a number of papers slips used in the game. Owing to the almost impossible task of finding sufficient evidence to convict the men the charge of visiting a gambling house was placed against them.

Trial by Newspaper.

When any person in private or public life is charged with crime he is entitled to at least a fair trial by his peers in due form of law. Yellow journalism is responsible, however, for the substitution of "trial by newspaper" for the statutory "trial by jury." Ordinarily in such cases the accused is some conspicuous figure in public life. The procedure is strictly ex-parte and the evidence submitted irresponsible, not given under oath and usually hearsay. But the purpose of this new form of trial is to reach a popular verdict by a short cut consigning the accused, who has been given no chance to set up a defense, to the perpetual contumely of his fellow-men.

Nothing was ever introduced into the profession of newspaper-making more vicious than yellow journalism's "trial by newspaper." It prematurely inflames the public mind and often leads them to erroneous conclusions, because the greater number of the readers of newspapers are not possessed of the gift of discrimination, of the power of analysis, or of that judicial temperament which is capable of weighing evidence impartially, even though it be strictly ex-parte.

There is a whole lot of this kind of irresponsible "trial by newspaper" in progress at present. The statutory course of justice has been set aside. The procedure is by innuendo, assumption and the wildest and most uncertain statement, phrased, however, with such devilish ingenuity that the average reader unconsciously accepts an absolute fabrication as well established fact and, consequently, draws conclusions which, if erroneous, are obviously unjust.

"Trial by newspaper" is usually prompted by personal envy, jealousy, revenge or hatred, or the accomplishment of some base political, social or business purpose. But some California newspapers frequently demean themselves these days by indulging in "trial by newspaper" instead of resorting to the statutory process of "trial by jury." The only course which a respectable newspaper can follow when acting in its legitimate capacity of a censor of public morals and impeaching the integrity of a public officer is to submit, as part of the current news of the day, the facts on which the impeachment is based. No self-respecting newspaper will do less. Rank assertion and crafty insinuation, without the production of any substantial and trustworthy facts to support them, amount to nothing. They succeed in the majority of cases, however, to prejudice the public mind against the persons haled into the new court of yellow journalism. That is, probably, the main purpose of "trial by newspaper." But the procedure is so unfair and unjust and the results reached are frequently so vicious that a clean, honest, fair-minded, judicial public sentiment ought to be aroused to frown it down.

The Case of Murderer Kiniry.

Mrs. J. Watson of Los Angeles, the mother of David P. Kiniry, who is now serving a life sentence in the Folsom State Prison for the murder of Policeman James Smith in this city three years ago, is canvassing the jurors that convicted him in order to persuade them to sign a petition to Governor Pardee for a commutation of the sentence. A mother may be pardoned for any lawful effort she may make for the defense of her off-spring, however extreme and unreasonable it may appear to others, for the maternal instinct overrides every other consideration with her. But, if the mother of the convict-murderer Kiniry really believes what she is credited with having said of her son in a recent interview, namely, that she knows "that David could not do wrong, especially kill a man," she is ignoring indisputable facts in his history in cherishing such a belief. Kiniry, it will be remembered, was detected in the act of burglary in Los Angeles, and, nothing loath to commit murder at that time to save himself from arrest, was shot down by the pursuing officer. It was a case of being caught red-handed in crime, ready to effect his nefarious purpose by resorting to any extreme. The sacrifice of human life was a secondary consideration with him. It was no fault of his plans that other blood than his own was not shed in the Los Angeles episode.

There is not the shadow of a doubt about the correctness of the verdict of the trial jury in the Smith murder case, although the evidence fixing it on Kiniry was circumstantial. It was so conclusive, however, that the jury would have grievously failed in the performance of its duty if it had failed to find him guilty. The fact that the evidence was circumstantial was the one thing that impelled the jury to fix the penalty at life imprisonment instead of consigning him to the gallows, where his career ought, in justice to the dead officer and to society, to have ended.

Kiniry was, in fact, one of the most desperate, cunning and dangerous criminals in the State when he was at large. While following the occupation of a professional burglar in Oakland, he utilized membership in the Young Men's Christian Association to ward off suspicion, and he went prepared to kill any one who interfered with his operations or put his liberty in jeopardy.

Applications for the exercise of executive clemency have been presented to the Governor in the cases of some convicts serving life sentences in the State penitentiaries, which have been turned down by him, although based upon grounds which may be reasonably said to warrant commutation and backed by recommendations from the Board of Pardons. Kiniry's case does not belong to this class, however. Having escaped the gallows through the indulgence and tender-heartedness of the trial jury, he should never again be allowed to breathe the air of freedom and resume his depredations on society, which he undoubtedly would do were he ever to regain his liberty. He is one of that type of criminals which never reforms. His reputed good conduct as a prisoner at Folsom is no better guarantee of future good conduct as a free man than his membership in the Young Men's Christian Association was an effective restraint to the exercise of his criminal instincts before his arrest and conviction. No convict is entitled to executive clemency in any form save where extenuating circumstances were associated with the commission of the crime for which he is serving the penalty of the law, and not, in any case, where the prisoner's criminal antecedents show confirmed degeneracy and give no reasonable promise of genuine reform.

The State police of Pennsylvania is reported to be a remarkably efficient body. Statements emanating from Reading represent that a troop of the State police is driving the tramps out of the county to the great relief of the farmers who have suffered from their depredations and the pilferings of petty thieves. If the special police wearing the State's livery in California could be only employed in a similar useful service here it would be heartily welcomed. But our State police seems to be more ornamental than useful, probably because that body is only nominally under the State's jurisdiction.

Morocco's Unsettled Condition.

The disquieting effects of the German Kaiser's meddlesome intervention last year in the management of the affairs of Morocco are again in evidence. The international conference held at Algieras, Spain, last spring, which provided for a special system of policing the country, has not been productive of any permanent good. It was not considered at the time that it would be effective, but it was accepted as a compromise measure to prevent trouble between the European powers, the situation between France and Germany being very delicate at the time.

Morocco is very much of a kind with the Balkans in its relations to European politics. It is one of the danger spots where, if a spark is ignited, all Europe may suddenly break out afire with war. The three European nations most interested in the preservation of the peace of Morocco are France, Spain and Great Britain, the former two because of territorial proximity to the Sultanate; the latter because of its financial and commercial interests there. As between France and Spain, the former's interests in the preservation of the peace and the domestic welfare of Morocco are paramount, as the French province of Algeria borders on those sections of the Sultanate which are inhabited by the lawless, semi-barbarous mountain tribes who are in a chronic state of disorder. France is compelled to keep a standing army to defend the frontier against the predatory raids of these restive tribesmen. It was the design of Great Britain and Spain under the tripartite agreement, which the Kaiser disturbed by an untimely intervention, to give France a free hand in the policing of the country and the management of its finances, as the Sultan has proved to be totally incompetent to do either. But the Algieras convention provided for an international financial management and the policing of the cities and ports where foreign trade had been established under the joint control of French and Spanish officers. This hermaphrodite arrangement has evidently proved a failure, for the country continues in a state of disorder and the Sultan is as impotent as ever to cope with the rebellious tribes which are raiding his dominions. The folly of the Kaiser's intermeddling is evident. It would have been far better for the good of Morocco and every interest concerned in it to have allowed the original arrangement giving France a free hand to prevail, for it appears necessary now to make an international naval demonstration off the Moroccan coast to put an end to the anti-foreign agitation which the Sultan, if not encouraging, has failed to suppress or control.

Federal payments of war claims presented by the State, back taxes collected from the railroads and increased taxes obtained from these and other corporations have enabled Wisconsin's administration to not only meet the extraordinary expenses of the State this year, without levying a general tax, but it has put $643,000 into the treasury and cut the school tax levy in half. No wonder that the farmers are rejoicing this year over the fact that they will not be required to visit either the assessor or the tax collector.

Seattle has raised a subscription of $500,000 as a preliminary toward the holding of an Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition there in 1904. It will be soon in order for Oakland to take up the proposed "Balboa exposition" idea for 1913 and put it into practical shape.

'WIDOW' TO BE HERE TONIGHT

George Ade's Great Play to Open at the Macdonough—
Other Amusements

Notwithstanding that there are numerous good things that have become staple favorites in the amusement menu within the last year, there is one that stands pre-eminently among the successes and that is George Ade's delightful "College Widow," which is announced for the Macdonough Theatre tonight and the balance of the week. The demand for this typical American comedy this season is so great that some cities have been necessarily slighted in the itinerary arranged by Manager Henry W. Savage so that this city is fortunate in being located on the line of travel chosen for Mr. Savage's fine organization, a company which, by the way, is said to have been selected with greater care than any Mr. Savage has yet sent us. Matinee Saturday and Sunday.

HOW W. MILLER BECAME A JOCKEY

Up four flights of a dingy tenement in the heart of New York's East Side seventeen years ago a little one crowded further trouble into the family of a poor cigar maker.

He was a tiny mite—no more than a year old—made his home in a hat. He was 80 per cent appetite and 10 per cent voice. Although the cupboard was never scratched at meal time, he went at post at top weight, and came away under wraps. He fattened against adversity out of sheer perversity, and toddled into the street to grow up. He was a prodigy, but his way to fame was hard. There was no little red school house around the corner. It was a monster of brick. And the time he spent were the broken nine boxes carried from the Dutch grocers.

He grew up—a little bit. At 14 he was the size of a doll, and tipped the scales at sixty-five pounds. "What shall he do?" cried his father in dismay. "He's not big enough to get him a job."

His father was the greatest financier in the world. It is wrong to believe Wall Street holds the Napoleons. The big financiers are to be found on the East Side. He didn't mind the salary of a Wall Street office boy.

"Make him a jockey," suggested a friend.

SAW A FRIEND. And the father did. He had a friend who knew the intimate friend of the jockey, the bookmaker. Steadker was willing. "Bring him around and let me look at him," said Steadker. "But I think you'll do. You look dead. Steadker to the friend, James McLaughlin, at the track. 'I know a kid I think would be a jockey. He's a little mite, but he's got the makings of a champion.'"

"What's his name?" asked McLaughlin. "Oh, forget it," said Steadker. "It's a fortune. Call him Miller—Walter Miller. His real name means 'hunch' in English."

"What's his name?" asked McLaughlin. "Oh, forget it," said Steadker. "It's a fortune. Call him Miller—Walter Miller. His real name means 'hunch' in English."

LADS' PIGSKIN GAME ENDS IN TIE

The Twenty-third avenue and Lookwood teams played a tie game on the Union High school grounds last Saturday. The Lookwoods had the better of the first half but in the second half the first team played with more life and spirit. He crossed the line at the end of the field, however, and so Moyer missed the goal.

The Lookwoods also made a touchdown on the tackle bucks. The Lookwood fullback missed an easy goal and the score was a tie.

Hopkins of the avenue team hurt his nose severely. The twenty-third avenue team was glad to accept challenges from teams averaging less than 115 pounds (lookwoods 120). Twenty-third avenue, or phone Spruce 74. The twenty-third avenue team can furnish good grounds.

CHAMPIONS AT THE RINK

What Is Going on at the Local Places of Amusement.

It is not poetic drama, music, drawing or literature, yet nevertheless it is art, in as great a sense as a summer's eve in a pastoral play or a bronze gateway is a work of art, this I say of the skating exhibitions given by the Roxos at Lakeside Skating Rink last night. It is the poetry of motion, the rhythm of physical possibilities, the grace of the human body in its most perfect form, and the symmetry of every grace and curve the human body is capable of showing. A tall slender man and a little bit of a lady with an unusual share of good looks, both graceful and wondrous on roller skates; antics of all sorts showing grace and daring. The two step in all styles, waltzes, performed with the regular movements of a marionette, skating both backwards and forwards in a manner that reminds one of the graceful curves of a sea bird diving for its prey—the denizens of the deep; stunts and feats of daring that entice the eye to assume the name of the human top on roller skates.

He spun around forty-five times. I got tired counting and he was still spinning. Madame Roxo's skating is the most graceful ever seen in this neighborhood and Roxo is a king as his name implies. His last stunt, an imitation of a Southern Pacific freight train on a journey from Oakland to Los Angeles going through a tunnel, is a splendid one and is baffling to the eye. There was neither delay nor breakdown. The Roxos drew a large crowd and will continue to give a large crowd and evening exhibitions during the week. In the afternoon Professor Roxo will give a short lecture on the possibilities of roller skating.

SEVEN STORY BLOCKS TO GO UP ON CLAY STREET

The Mrs. Letter property fronting on Fifteenth street between Clay and Jefferson was sold yesterday through the real estate agency of R. C. Vose to F. B. Cook for the sum of $35,000.

Several of the largest dry goods houses in Oakland have bought at Fifteenth and Clay, which insures high valuation to all property in that locality. Some seven story buildings will soon be in course of erection there.

HOME INDORSEMENT

HUNDREDS OF OAKLAND CITIZENS CAN TELL YOU ALL ABOUT IT.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Oakland people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Oakland reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in faraway places. Read the following:

E. M. Frazier, with the harbor commission, residence 2220 Dupont avenue, Berkeley, says: "If I had not been positively certain that Doan's Kidney Pills were doing me good, I never would have returned to a drug store and bought a second box. The dull aching in my back was just the common, ordinary kind of a pain in and around the kidneys, never severe enough to lay a man up, but recurring at intervals frequent enough and annoying to cause considerable discomfort. Doan's Kidney pills positively stopped the attack and since then I have made more than one of my friends and acquaintances aware of the fact, for I think a remedy which can be depended upon, should be known to everybody."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

PRESS BUREAU WAS A COMPLETE SUCCESS

How the Election Returns Were Gathered and Tabulated for All of the Newspapers.

The United Press Bureau which was formed for the purpose of collecting election returns in Alameda county has about completed its work. The bureau was composed of THE TRIBUNE, Enquirer, Herald, Examiner, Call and Chronicle. The headquarters were established in THE TRIBUNE building several days before election and plans for the great task of collecting the returns on election night were commenced. The San Francisco press had nothing to do with the collection of the returns. Their correspondents were given the figures from the press bureau. The bureau committee consisting of John F. Conners of THE TRIBUNE, A. A. Dennison of the Enquirer and Edison Davis of the Herald, planned all the details for the collection and tabulation of the returns. This was no easy task, for it must be remembered that there were 108 precincts to be covered in the county. The ticket was one of the most complicated ever used in the history of an election here.

After many nights of hard work the committee completed all details for covering every precinct in the county. A representative of the press bureau was placed in every precinct. They were given the election law, the great task of tabulating the returns was begun in the counting room. Here the county was divided into three districts: the state county and township. The names on the ticket averaged two hundred and as there were 108 precincts in the county, it will be seen that there were 38,000 entries to be made on the tally sheets. This in itself was a tremendous work. It required a staff of fifteen accountants and five adding machines to keep the work going. This staff worked continuously from 6 p. m.

PRESIDENT CASTRO APPROACHES CRISIS

IS IDENTIFIED.

MOSCOW, Nov. 12.—The police have here today caught the man who yesterday threw a bomb at General Rheinbot, the prefect of police, as a brother of Vladimir Masury, the leader of the flying group of terrorists, who was captured here September 13th, and executed September 14th for the murder of Colonel von Leshinkoff, of the secret police. A third brother, Sorger Masury, was executed for participation in the St. Petersburg customs robbery, and a fourth is now in prison here for membership in the revolutionary organization.

CASITORIA.

The bank was robbed.

WALKER, Mo., Nov. 12.—Three robbers here today escaped with the contents of the Bank of Walker. The amount stolen is not known. The safe and front portion of the bank building were wrecked by the explosion of a heavy charge of dynamite.

U. S. GRAND JURY RETURNS INDICTMENTS

MOBILE, Ala., Nov. 12.—Another indictment charging conspiracy to commit peonage was returned last night by the United States grand jury at Pensacola, Florida, against W. S. Harlan, manager of the Jackson Lumber Company of Lockport, Alabama, Robert Gallagher Woods, foreman of the company; Oscar Sanders, an interpreter, and John Atwell, a deputy sheriff of Walton county. The indictments relate to a conspiracy to detain against their wills and commit to a condition of peonage two foreigners whose location it at present unknown.

POSSIBLE SUCCESSOR.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Gerald Lother, the British minister at Tangier, is mentioned as the possible successor to Sir Mortimer Durand as Ambassador of Great Britain at Washington.

HORSE BURSTS BLOOD VESSEL AT TRACK

Flourish, a performer at the race track at Emeryville, while breeding this morning burst a blood vessel and died instantly. The horse was owned by Stewart Folk, and was a valuable animal.

IN CONFERENCE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The committee representing the firemen of the New York Central and the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroads went into conference with officials of the two roads at the Grand Central depot today. The committees were headed by Grand Master John J. Hannahan, of the firemen's organization, Grand Chief Stone, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, was to have a conference with committee representing the engineers of the Erie, New York Central and New York, New Haven and Hartford railroads later in the day.

PROTEST OVER NEW SCHOOL

Melrose Folks Want Concrete
Used Instead of Wood for Building.

Pursuant to the call of the Melrose Improvement Club for a mass meeting to enter its protest against the building of the Union High school No. 4 out of wood instead of re-enforced concrete as was generally understood to be the material when the election took place to bond that district for $125,000, a large and determined meeting was held at Melrose Monday evening last at which John McDonald, president and W. F. Broderick acted as secretary.

Every section of the district was well represented and many speeches were made denouncing the reported action of the School Trustees in violating the clearly understood wishes of the taxpayers who voted to re-enforce the bonds for a re-enforced concrete building. It seemed to be the unanimous sentiment of everyone present that the same was to be built of re-enforced concrete and if possible of fireproof material, now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED That it is the sense of this meeting and of the entire community of this district should at once raise its voice against this misapplication of the money for said building.

RESOLVED That it is further the sense of this meeting that if said school board shall persist in their effort to have said building made of wood that suit to enjoin them from so doing should be entered at once.

MASS MEETING
RESOLVED That a mass meeting be and is hereby called for the discussion of the question hereinbefore set out at the Congregational Armory at Fruitvale avenue and 15th street, Fruitvale, Thursday, November 15, at 8 p. m., at which meeting every person interested together with the trustees of said district are urged and cordially invited to attend.

RESOLVED That the Oakland papers be requested to publish these resolutions. (Signed)

JOHN McDONALD

PARDEE SAYS: 'BE THANKFUL

Governor Issues Annual Proclamation to the State.

Governor Pardee has issued his Thanksgiving proclamation, as follows:

Executive Department, State of California.—At the end of one of the most memorable years in their history—a year that has witnessed one of the greatest disasters of modern times—the people of California have much for which to return thanks to the Giver of All Blessings. Although San Francisco and other cities were almost destroyed by earthquake and fire, the general prosperity of the State has remained unaffected. Even the cities which suffered from the stroke of April 18th are being rapidly restored, and moreover, the misfortune was made the occasion for one of the greatest demonstrations of brotherly kindness the world has ever seen.

For the worldwide sympathy which was manifested with us in our distress, the gratitude is due to the people of other states and of foreign countries, and most of all to Him who causes the heart of man to feel for a brother in need. By means of the help so generously extended, suffering was soon relieved, and with the gradual restoration of their industries our people are now facing a future bright with hope. In recognition of these and other blessings it is proper that the annual custom of setting apart a day for thanksgiving and praise should be followed.

Now, therefore, by the authority of law invested in me, I George C. Pardee, Governor, do hereby designate Thursday, the 29th of November, 1906, as a day of general Thanksgiving to Almighty God.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed at the Capitol, in the City of Sacramento, this 13th day of November, A. D. 1906. GEORGE C. PARDEE, Governor.

By the Governor, C. F. CURRY, Secretary of State.

TO REPLACE RUSS HOUSE

Handsome Structure, to Cost
$1,250,000, to Go Up on Site of Old Hotel.

The old Russ House site, which extends from Bush to Pine, on Montgomery street, in San Francisco, has just been leased, and a handsome and modern structure, to cost about $1,250,000 is to be erected thereon. The lessees are William H. Crocker, president of the Crocker National bank, and Charles T. Green, secretary and manager of the Crocker Estate company, who are to extend a period of twenty years.

They have also secured an option to purchase the property from the Russ estate for $2,000,000 within five years from the commencement of the term of the lease. The papers are all drawn, and the deal will be closed in a few days as soon as the formalities of the search shall have been completed.

It is understood that the Southern Pacific company, which has temporary offices in the Flood building, corner Market and Powell streets, is to have offices in the new building when completed. The site has a frontage of 275 feet on Montgomery street, 137 1/2 on Bush street, and 100 1/2 on Pine street. The lot is being cleared of debris and preparatory work is progressing and will begin as soon as the lot shall be cleared. The intention is to erect a twelve-story class A building to cover the entire site. Harrigan, Weldenmuller & Rosenstrum are the agents who negotiated the transaction.

It is stated that eastern capitalists have made an offer through A. J. Rich Co., of $1,500,000 for this same site, as late as November 5, but the offer was refused, as negotiations to the home people had already been completed.

TRIAL TRIP OF CRUISER CALIFORNIA

The new armored cruiser California returned from her official trial trip at sea yesterday, and all along the waterfront she sounded her sirens to announce the splendid record she had made. The California anchored at a spot near the Union Iron Works, from which spot she had started shortly after 8 o'clock in the morning, proceeding to sea and taking a cruise that extended perhaps forty miles to the westward.

The California did better than to average the required 22 knots an hour for four hours, the average, 22.22 knots. The highest speed she made was 23.2 knots. There were no accidents, and the machinery worked perfectly.

The naval board accompanying the California was headed by Captain G. E. Harber. Captain Kincaid was the president of the steam engineering board. Others present including Commander Stevenson, inspector of machinery at the Union Iron Works, Naval Constructor Evans of Mare Island and Fred A. Gardner, chief engineer of the Union Iron Works.

The California will now be fitted up and furnished and turned over to the Government as soon as possible, probably within the next two months.

PASSENGERS ARE COUNTED

Secretary Metcalf Orders an Investigation on the Ferry Boats.

A thorough count is being made, under orders of Secretary of Commerce and Labor Victor H. Metcalf, of the passengers who cross the bay on the various ferry boats. The object of this, according to Secretary Metcalf, is to see that all the provisions of the law as regards the safety of the passengers are carried out.

The first boats of which a count is to be made are those of the Southern Pacific ferry system, and yesterday Captain John Birmingham, supervising inspector for this district John K. Bulger, inspector of hulls and several assistant inspectors made a careful count of the passengers on the ferryboat Piedmont which left San Francisco at 6 o'clock.

It was estimated that there were 1500 aboard her. After the Southern Pacific and Key Route boats are attended to attention will be turned to those that run to Sausalito and Tiburon.

Ever since the fire the travel on the bay boats has been greater than ever before. Immediately after the fire it was the heaviest in the history of the Southern Pacific. It has decreased since, but is still far in excess of last year's travel. As a consequence, the morning and evening boats are badly crowded, and the waiting-room, just before the sailing of the boats, is a mass of closely packed and sweating humanity.

The law does not limit the number of passengers a ferry boat shall carry, it is provided, though, that life preservers and other life-saving apparatus shall be provided in proportion to the average number of passengers.

Special Agent W. S. Palmer of the Southern Pacific Company, accompanied the inspectors across the bay on the Piedmont. He announced that his company was planning to replace the congestion of traffic with three new ferry boats, bids for which have been asked by the company. Every effort will be made by the company to have the boats completed as soon as is practicable.

CHILLED BOMB IS GENERAL'S SAVIOR

IRKUTSK, Siberia, Nov. 13.—It was owing to the chilling of the explosive that the bomb thrown at General Rennenkampf, governor of Trans-Baikalia, yesterday did not injure him. The would-be assassin lay in wait for the general on Amur street, where he is accustomed to promenade and as the general approached the terrorist arose from a bench "threw the bomb and started to run, but was immediately captured, the general hiding in a nearby building.

A revolver was found on the prisoner's person. Within four hours after throwing the bomb he was placed on trial before a drumhead court martial. The prisoner who has not been identified, admits that he is a member of the social revolutionary organization.
